Steinway & Sons The World's Best Piano

We beg to advise our customers, that on the first day of September prices will be advanced on all Steinway pianos. The advance varies from $75 up, according to style of instrument.

If you are contemplating the purchase of a Steinway piano, we would advise you to take advantage of the now prevailing prices, as it is hardly probable that Steinway pianos will ever again be sold at the prices now quoted.

The Price of The Steinway Pianos

is uniform throughout the United States, no dealer is permitted to offer these instruments for sale at prices differing from those fixed by Messrs. Steinway and sons.

The Steinway

is the highest priced instrument at wholesale that money can buy, and the margin-of-profit to the dealer is the smallest of any piano manufactured in the world.

To Protect Our Customers

We placed an enormous order for Steinway Pianos and can supply our trade during August at the old prices. As only a few days are left, it is much to your interest to act promptly. We are glad to furnish you with catalogues, and give you both the old and the new price list, by comparing them, you can readily see the advantage of buying now. We will make very favorable terms, and allow fair values for other instruments taken in trade.
